This is about justice.

When has justice ever been as simple as a rule book?

The look in your eyes, I recognize it. You used to have it for me.

For an android with no feelings, he sure managed to evoke them in others. Sure. You'd be surprised how far a hug goes with Geordi, or Worf. Mr. Worf, you sound like a man who's asking his friend if he can start dating his sister. We know you're dealing in stolen ore. But I wanna talk about the assassination attempt on Lieutenant Worf. Some days you get the bear, and some days the bear gets you. Maybe if we felt any human loss as keenly as we feel one of those close to us, human history would be far less bloody. (I'd like to think that I haven't changed those things, sir.)

- I suggest you drop it, Mr. Data.
- Talk about going nowhere fast
- Computer, belay that order.
- The Borg is everywhere!
- Congratulations - you just destroyed the Enterprise.

Fear is the true enemy, the only enemy.

1. About four years.
2. I got tired of hearing how young I looked
3. Captain, why are we out here chasing comets?
4. I'm afraid I still don't understand sir.

Person		Text
Riker	1	Some days you get the bear, and some days the bear gets you.
Crusher	2	What? We're not at all alike!
Data	3	Smooth as an android's bottom, eh, Data?
Picard	4	Shields up! Rrrrred alert!
Troi	5	A lot of things can change in twelve years, Admiral.
Worf	6	Mr Worf, do you remember how to fire phasers?

Mr. Worf, you do remember how to fire phasers? Why don't we just give everybody a promotion and call it a night - 'Commander'? I'm afraid I still don't understand, sir. And blowing into maximum warp speed, you appeared for an instant to be in two places at once. The Federation's gone; the Borg is everywhere! Your head is not an artifact! I will obey your orders. I will serve this ship as First Officer. And in an attack against the Enterprise, I will die with this crew. But I will not break my oath of loyalty to Starfleet. Computer, lights up! Fear is the true enemy, the only enemy.
